Features

PHBT comes with four covers. According to your needs it can be used one or another of the PHB covers. See the different options at the next page.

- Cover for PHB:

- Cover for Console:

- Windowed Cover for PHB:

- Small Cover for PHB:

Table-Built-In Panel for PHB is designed to accommodate the preheater unit and its console and to be integrated into the workbench.

* Not included, sold separately.

Options

Cover and protect the work space using the different covers provided with PHBT.

The console can be covered by the console cover. For the other tree PHB covers see the following usage options:

Option 1:

While working with the preheater, the side area next to the heating zone can be covered using the windowed cover for PHB.

Option 2:

When work is no longer in progress, the entire preheater area can be covered. The cover protects the preheater and keeps more space free on the workbench.

Option 3:

While working with the preheater and the support, the side area next to the support can be covered using the small cover for PHB.

Note: If the preheater is used the other way round, all preheater covers can also be fitted the other way round.

Assembly

Cut an opening on your work table according to the dimensions on the drawing (see next page).

Fit the panel into the opening and fix it to your workbench with the supplied screws.
